Jesus, the Virgin Mary and Saint Joseph. Responding to a request of the Virgin Mary, in October 2012 she began her task as a visionary, transmitting the messages of the Most Holy Virgin Mary during Her public Apparitions. In March 2013, the Most Chaste Saint Joseph began a cycle of instruction through the visionary. She is coauthor of the book “Messages of Humility.”

Introduction

During the months of May and June 2020, the Most Chaste Saint Joseph transmitted a series of dialogues called Dialogues of a Soul With God through the visionary Sister Lucía de Jesús, a nun of the Grace Mercy Order.

It is important to highlight that in the initial period of the approach of the Divine Messengers to the visionary monastics of the Order, Our Lady asked Mother María Shimani de Montserrat, as an instructor, to accompany the contact process of Sister Lucía and also to be in charge of organizing all the instruction received by her. This is why the two visionaries are listed as authors.

The dialogues in this book lead us to a profound reencounter with the Eternal Father through the intimate confession of each soul to their Creator.

Each dialogue guides us into a unique and special reflection. What is the reason for our existence? How can we take steps toward higher life? What does the Creator expect from us in these times? These are questions answered by the Eternal Father, Who made these dialogues reach humanity through the Most Chaste Saint Joseph as precious instruction for souls.

As the readers are inspired by the Heart of Saint Joseph, we invite them to enter the mysteries of their own souls through these simple dialogues, and thus, at each reading, (re)establish their own dialogue with God.

I - Seek God and Find the Meaning of Your Own Existence

Saturday, May 9, 2020

A soul that lived immersed in sadness and bitterness questioned the Lord about what was the meaning of their existence. Knowing that all creatures have been made to express Love, and feeling that they were far from knowing and expressing this Love, the soul could not find a reason for their own existence.

With compassionate Eyes, the Lord contemplated this soul and responded also with a question: “You feel that you cannot express My Love and you live immersed in bitterness and sadness, but do you seek My Heart each day? Do you ask for My Grace and strive to overcome your bitterness in the dryness of your inner world in order to reach My Thought for you?”

The soul, afflicted and somewhat upset, answered the Lord that they do not seek Him, that they do not feel Him, and that they are only immersed in their own weaknesses and bitterness.

The Lord then said: “You are a beloved soul, and I love you as much as you could love Me and everything that exists, but since I created you, dear soul, you have distanced yourself from My path and covered yourself with so many garments and veils that you can no longer recognize who you are nor Who I Am. But for Me to show you your true face, you need to ask Me, you need to go beyond your bitterness and weakness, your dryness and sadness, your desires and goals, and all that which you think about how I manifest Myself in your life, how I reveal Myself to you, and how you can feel Me.

Let Me act within your heart and, for this, just say yes to Me, every day, with humility and persistence. The purpose of your existence is to live and renew My Love but for this to happen there is a path of redemption and humility, of renunciation and surrender, of overcoming and rendition in which you become lost from yourself and then you find Me, so that only then may you know what it is to express and renew My Love.

My miracle in your life begins when you say yes to Me. This miracle is constant and eternal, and oftentimes you will not perceive that My Love is acting through your heart but, above all, you must trust in Me.”

Today I tell you this short and profound story because the souls of the world are not finding the meaning of their own existences, nor do they look for the One Who can reveal this to them.

It is not in the world or in human goals that you will find realization and wholeness. To free yourselves of the emptiness and bitterness of a life without love, you must seek God, children, and in Him seek the answers for your deepest questions.

You have My blessing for this.

II - Love God and, Thus, Find Peace

Sunday, May 10, 2020

A soul that strived very much to fulfill the Plan of God and to become better was afflicted for feeling that, in spite of their efforts, they did not know how to love and could not manage to become better as they so aspired to do.

In a moment of prayer, the soul questioned God: “Lord, I make such an effort to love more and become better, and I feel that I am at a standstill and far away from the perfection of Your Love and likeness with You. Where is that which You say dwells within us?”

And responding also with a question, the Lord said: “Little soul, do you perhaps seek Me, you or the world more? Is your attention upon building your own consciousness, in pleasing others or in loving Me with all your heart and all your being?”

Understand that it is I Who must love through you, and so that you may achieve the revelation of this profound union with Me, you must seek Me more than yourself. You must keep your attention focused on My Spirit, your heart must be available in My Presence and, before anything else, you must build your spiritual and essential link with Me. In this way, it will be Me loving within you, and you will feel better because you will feel more of Me and less of your human limitations. Your life will speak about Me, and those who encounter you will encounter Me.

This is how you achieve perfection, little soul: when I can be perfect within you.

This is a long daily path in which you seek My Heart each day and grant Me a space within yourself ever more. But if your attention is upon you becoming better, upon your love becoming greater and more perfect, then you will always be frustrated and you will not find peace.”

I tell you this story so that you may know where to focus your efforts so that your diligence may be in loving God, knowing Him and expressing Him more each day. In this way, you will find peace.

You have My blessing for this.

III - The True Treasure

Monday, May 11, 2020

A poor soul, lacking the basic means to survive in the world, questioned the Lord, asking where He was and what was the reason for their suffering, saying: “Lord, I who so seek and ask in Your Name, receive no answers but rather I receive ever greater suffering and woes. Tell me the reason for the imbalance in this world and why I cannot have as much as my fellow beings.”

And responding also with a question, the Lord said: “Where lies your treasure, little soul? In longing for accumulating things on Earth or in discovering the mysteries of Heaven? So contemplate those who truly came to know Me. The illumination of their consciousnesses allowed them to give up all goods of the world, and having become poor among the poor, they were rich before Me.

Therefore, contemplate My Son. Was He sent to the world to accumulate riches, to experience pleasures, to satiate His Body, Mind and Feelings? Is My Son your example and guide? Is He the mirror in which you want to find yourself reflected every day?

Then, little soul, understand that the suffering and poverty of this life come to balance the great many excesses of humanity. For you, they must be a symbol that your school is not through accumulation but rather through renunciation and gratitude.

Teach the world through a humble example and open the Doors of Heaven for those who are ignorant of this truth and who seek in the world, rather than in Me, for the way of filling their lives.”

I am telling you this story so that you may learn where lies the true treasure of your lives. And when you feel that something is lacking for you, give thanks, and be an example of the humble Love of God. In this way, you will open the Doors of Heaven for the most ignorant.

You have My blessing for this.

IV - To Defeat the World

Tuesday, May 12, 2020

A soul that aspired to live the Christic path and imitate the Lord struggled every day against human temptations and tendencies. Feeling that they were always defeated by the world, the soul questioned God, asking Him: “Lord, how will I be able to defeat the temptations of the world and overcome the vices of the flesh, which seem to be the masters of my human condition?”

And responding also with a question, the Lord said: “Little soul, did I not give you the example for overcoming the human condition? Did I not defeat the vices and tendencies of humanity, while in fragile and mortal flesh, through My Son? So contemplate the Cross of Christ, for there you will find the answers to your deepest questions; there, your body, mind and your feelings will be moved to experience transformation. Through the Love of Christ, you will find the key and the momentum so that in each situation of life in which temptations are presented to you, you may choose Christic life rather than the world.

The Passion of Christ must be your refuge, where you must run to each time the world seeks your heart. When you are tempted to choose the things of the world, place your eyes upon the Cross and contemplate each injury and wound of the Lord. All this was for you, so that today you could choose Love rather than illusion, so that today you could discover who you are, and you would not remain with veils upon your face.

Human vices are only defeated when your consciousness is taken by a higher Love that leads you to walk toward Christ, and this Love is to be found on the Cross. Therefore, every day, contemplate the Lord of Calvary, and there you will find peace.”

I tell you this story so that you may know how to defeat the world that is stirred within you, in this constant battle between the old and the new human that is fought within your hearts.

You have My blessing for this.

V - Inspiration to Constant Self-Overcoming While Seeking God

Wednesday, May 13, 2020

A soul that always sought the truth within was sometimes turned more toward Heaven, and sometimes more immersed in the world. While submerged into the things of the world, the soul would lose themselves in the depths of the world's waters and, when they managed to return to Light and breathe, they felt that it was difficult to return to the truth, that they became confused and no longer knew what was real.

So one day, speaking with God within, the soul questioned Him: "Lord, just a second of feeling Your Presence strengthens my spirit for it to be upon Your Path, but just a second that I am distracted from You, I can no longer find You, I become lost and I drown in the seas of the things of the world. What do I do to grow in You, God, and no longer be submerged into the world?"

And responding also with a question, the Lord said: "Do you see the suffering of souls? Do you see what they endure in wars and conflicts? Do you see how those who have no hope suffer? Do you see how those who walk in darkness cannot find themselves? Does this move your little heart?"

Then close your eyes and contemplate My Presence within you. Imagine, little soul, that I Am inside of you. Remember everything I have built since the beginning of life: the dimensions, the stars, the sublime realities and the entire Earth. Do you feel how small you are? Do you feel how small your suffering is?

When you look at the suffering of the world or when you look at the greatness of Heaven, find the strength to not fall into the same errors and to not complain about your small difficulties.

Will your effort not be worth bringing relief to the world? Will your renunciation not be worth the intercession of a soul? Will your effort not be worth that My Plan may be fulfilled? Will your renunciation not be worth the world coming to know true life?

And even if you give your life so that others may have knowledge of My Kingdom on Earth, little soul, know that each renunciation has indeed been worth it, each effort has been worth it, each overcoming has been worth it, each time you chose Me rather than the world, it has been worth it.

For this reason, when your heart is distressed and you feel that you prefer the world over following your path of return to My Heart, think of those who suffer, think of those who agonize, and then contemplate the Infinite, contemplate life, the universe, and may all of this make you small and may your problems also become small. May they be dissolved by My Breath.”

May this story inspire you to overcome yourselves each day, contemplating that which suffers, contemplating all life.

You have My blessing for this.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph

VI - Prayer and the Transformation of the World

Thursday, May 14, 2020

A soul that believed in God, in His infinite Existence, but that could not understand the mysteries of prayer, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, I know that You exist and that You are the God of life and eternity, but I also know there are laws that move this life and that free will exists, which gives us the freedom to be within it. Therefore, Lord, I do not understand the mystery of prayer and I cannot believe that a Rosary or a simple dialogue with You transform the laws of the Earth.”

Feeling the sincerity of the souls’ questions, the Lord responded, saying: “Little soul, in truth, what you ignore is not the power of prayer, you ignore My Power and My Love for you. You ignore the ability you have to unite with Me and the authority that I give you when you pray in My Name, because you are a dear and beloved child. And just like a child who asks receives what they need from their father, in this same way, I, Who can do all things, also give My children what they need.

However, the mystery of prayer is even more profound because I do not expect you to ask Me only for what you need in order to remain in the world as souls of the world. What I expect is that you ask for that which makes of this world a part of My Kingdom. And when you surrender before Me and open your hearts, I grant you forgiveness, I reveal to you the Love hidden within your essences, and I give you the authority to transform laws and life, as the angels and the archangels do while recreating My Creation.

Not only is the mystery of prayer unknown to you, little soul, but the mystery of your own life and the mystery of My Love are still unknown to you. For this reason, even if you do not understand, pray and surrender your incomprehensions at My Feet, at the foot of My Altar, for when I find an open heart in you, I will lead you not only to understand but also to come to know and experience all these things.”

Through this dialogue with God, children, may your souls be inspired to pray and cry out, each day more, for the transformation of the world.

You have My blessing for this.

VII - The Strength for Seeking Light and Crying Out for Mercy

Friday, May 15, 2020

A soul that was treading their path of surrender to God, one day, while experiencing a profound moment of inner definition, tempted by the forces of the world, thought about abandoning everything and launching into the pleasures and illusions of life. This soul was tempted to think and feel that their surrender had no meaning, that it made no difference to the evolution of life and that despite so much effort, they were standing still, so it would be better to leave this path and launch into the world.

Upon inwardly planning to abandon their spiritual path, the soul felt they could not do so and something tied them to God. With a mixture of fear and indignation, the soul began to question the Lord, saying: "Tell me, Lord, why do You tie me to Your Heart? What difference do I make for You if I am always the same invisible and imperfect soul in the infinity of Your Creation? God, why do You not allow that I abandon this path and that, surrendered to the world, I may learn to find You through other ways that are not this one?"

And with a smile on His Face, showing His celestial compassion, the Lord answered: "Can an organ decide for itself to live outside of the body and leave? However much it wants to be independent within this body, and it might create illnesses and imbalances, this organ cannot leave on its own. And if one day, after so many illnesses, it were to be removed from this body, do you believe, little soul, that it would survive alone?"

This is how the souls that have committed themselves to Me are. All the souls I have created are cells of My Mystical and Infinite Body, but those that have committed themselves to Me are organs inside of Me, which have a fundamental role in the evolution of life, and even if they do not realize it, they are a part of an infinite Work that does not begin nor end in this world. Therefore, beloved soul, it is not I Who ties you to My Heart and does not allow you to follow other paths, it is your own life and your condition of union with Me that makes you feel that, in spite of all temptations, you cannot do so.

But for you, this moment is not the expression of your purest thought. You are going through a moment of blindness and ignorance, in which clouds cover your face and your heart, and you cannot see or feel the truth. So that this truth may be revealed to you, do not distance yourself from My Love and do not stop crying out for My Mercy. Even if you are in the desert, I will give you the strength to persist. And, even in the inner dryness, you will feel My Fount that, in the very depths of the depths, springs up again within you. In a time of confusion, do not stop seeking Me, and I will give you peace.”

In this dialogue with God, children, may the souls that today are blind find the strength to seek Light and cry out for Mercy.

You have My blessing for this.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph

VIII - Pray without Ceasing

Saturday, May 16, 2020

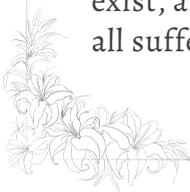

A soul that was awake and willing to enter the celestial mysteries, prayed every day to God and asked for His help to detach from the world and to not fear Heaven. This soul feared suffering, the transition of the times and the change on the planet because all this was unknown to them.

So, one day, questioning the Lord, the soul said: “Lord, I believe You are God and that beyond this life there is a greater Life. I know we are experiencing a great illusion but, immersed in it, I am not able to understand the truth. I fear the change of the times, I fear the suffering of the world and I fear everything that we are supposed to experience before the Return of Christ. Will You be able to defeat this fear in my heart?”

And contemplating this little soul with a gaze of compassion, the Lord answered: “When a heart is within Me, it experiences everything in a different way. For them, suffering transforms into an offering and loses its weight, converting pain into a greater Love.

The transition of the times and all that humanity will have to go through will be experienced in a different way by those who are within Me. Their eyes will see the confusion of the world, and within them there will be wisdom. Because I tell you, beloved soul, that it will not be the plagues, the movements of nature or the signs in the sky that will cause souls on Earth to suffer. It will be ignorance and their disconnection with higher life that will cause them to be lost.

The foundations upon which they used to sustain themselves, tirelessly seeking a life of pleasure and comfort, will no longer exist, and this will be the greatest sorrow of humanity, the root of all suffering.

That heart that is within Me will not fear, because I will give it peace and I will strengthen its faith. And the more you pray, the more you will be within Me, and I will grant you wisdom. And within the confusion and darkness of the world, your souls will be like beacons showing the way, and you will thus be the salt of the Earth and the light of the world. And My Words will be fulfilled, and the fulfillment of the prophecies will also bring you peace. For this reason, do not fear, but pray and be persistent in your fidelity, because I have chosen you to be a light at the table, and this is your destiny.”

May this story strengthen you, may it dispel your fears and place you in the correct direction so that you may pray and not stop praying, and thus you may find peace.

You have My blessing for this.

IX – At Each Instant, Surrender to the Creator

Sunday, May 17, 2020

A soul, passionate for God and willing to surrender to Him with all their heart, prayed and sang every day, offering Him their life, love, each space of their being. And one day, among their day-dreams and offerings, the soul said to the Lord: “Lord, I surrender my life to You, my heart and eternity, to always be within You. I surrender all that I am, and I would spend eternity at Your Feet, in prayer, because I only aspire to be within You forever.”

And looking at the soul with love, the Lord responded: “Little soul, who with sincerity aspires to surrender yourself, surrender yourself then at each instant of your life, surrender to Me your being, not only in prayer but also in each act and thought of your day.

Surrender yourself to Me serving your neighbor, saying yes to Me tirelessly, in the eternal overcoming of yourself. Surrender yourself to Me in silence, renouncing to give your opinion in order to welcome the wisdom and advice of your neighbor.

Surrender yourself to Me, allowing others to grow and find their place in My Plan, while I grow within you. Surrender yourself to Me renouncing your wills and living, in obedience and resignation, that which I thought of for you. Surrender yourself to Me with a pure thought, not judging, criticizing or attacking your fellow beings with your mind and your heart.

Surrender yourself to Me in the effort to love your neighbor and to always set an example of a patient and compassionate heart. Surrender yourself to Me with sincerity, with life, with transformation, with the desert or with joy, with sorrow or with bliss.

Surrender yourself to Me at each instant; thus you will know that I live within you because you not only opened the door of your heart to Me but of your whole being.”

May this dialogue with God teach you, children, that the surrender to the Creator must be at each instant and in everything in life; the surrender is full, complete and unconditional. In this way, you will learn to be within God; you will also allow Him to stay and be within each one of you.

You have My blessing for this.

X - Find Yourself Within the Eyes of God

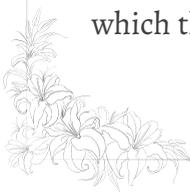

Monday, May 18, 2020

A soul that aspired to fulfill the Divine Will but constantly felt unworthy and incapable of doing so in the face of all the great things that the Lord called them to live, questioned His Sacred Heart for feeling too small and poor to fulfill His Work, and said: “Lord, great is Your Plan and it is full of deep Love for humanity and for all Creation. I contemplate Your Will and I am amazed by Your Mercy, but when I try to manifest what You want, I feel incapable before so many imperfections and difficulties. So I look at the world and at so many precious souls that You have created, and those whom You can count on to manifest Your Work, and I ask myself: why did You call on me?”

And contemplating this soul with Love, seeing them transparent and crystalline, just as He created them, the Lord responded: “Little soul, see your reflection in My Eyes. Do not look at yourself in the mirrors of the world but rather in the mirror of My Eyes. What the mirrors of the world can show you are limitations and defects, imperfections and perhaps skills, but what you truly are, you will only see if you look at your reflection in My Eyes.

I see you just as you are. I know of the potential that lies within you, I know of your trajectory since the beginning, I know what you were created for and for what your essence and consciousness were formed. Therefore, little soul, it is My Voice that you must hear, and not the voices of the world, or the confused voice of your mind, which is so often lost through the stimuli of this Earth. Open your inner hearing and listen to My Will, knowing that it corresponds to you and to no one else.

For each being of this world, I have a perfect Will, a path through which they will reach Me. And this path is not the one known to you; oftentimes it is not the one that you already know how to walk. This path is the one that will forge in you what I need, it is the one that will reveal to you what I see when I contemplate your little soul, for it will allow to emerge within your consciousness what you are, and the truth will take the place of the many layers with which you have covered your consciousness.

Therefore, beloved soul, when I ask something of you, do not look for your reference in the mirrors of the world. Look into My Eyes, see your real face reflected in Me and feel capable of carrying out everything that I ask of you, because My Will for you is perfect.

Open each day to discover within you that which is reflected in My Eyes: you yourself, as I see you. And it will not be vanities, nor pride or false humility that will dwell within your heart but rather it will be Me and My Truth, the transparency and the perfection of My Thought for you.”

May this story inspire you, children, to look for your references neither in that which you see of yourselves nor in the world but only in the depths of the Eyes of God. It will be there where you will find yourselves.

You have My blessing for this.

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph

XI - A Higher Purpose

Wednesday, May 20, 2020

A soul that claimed not to believe in God nor in spiritual life was in a state of great inner emptiness and, before their deepest anguish, the soul looked up to the sky and said: “What is there after death? A new life? From where and why did life emerge? You, Who people call God, do You truly exist? Where are You? Why do You not make Yourself visible to those who call themselves Your children?”

And contemplating this soul with great compassion, the Lord responded: “From Me emerged life, a broad, deep, complex and very ancient life, previous to the existence of this world, previous to the existence of the human mind and the time of humankind, in a space where science does not reach, the mind cannot explain and even the patriarchs and prophets could not understand, for a reason that is kept within My Heart, yet not understood but only loved and experienced.

I did not create life for any other reason but out of Love. Therefore, I am not reached through an answer but rather through a profound living of the same principle and gift that allowed Me to manifest all things. This mystery is to be found within your little heart.

Beloved soul, when with humility you embrace the healing of your deepest wounds, you will know that I Am God.

When you allow yourself to be loved by a Love that is not of this world but that comes from the Infinite, you will know that I Am God.

When the knowledge of your smallness and fragility is greater than the illusion of your pride, maturity and vanity, you will know that I Am God.

When you place your forehead upon the ground and surrender your mortal mind for an eternal Love, you will know that I Am God.

When, in the emptiness of your consciousness and the solitude of your heart, you take the risk to look inward and discover that I Am within you, you will know that I Am God and I Am in everything.

Within you, I wait in silence, and within your silence, I will be able to speak to your heart. You will come to know My infinite Love and through it you will come to know that which you call the reasons for which everything was created. What for you is a reason, for Me is a Purpose. There is no reason for life but there is a Higher Purpose: that of renewing My Love and returning to Me.”

May this dialogue with God inspire you, children, to turn inward and experience Divine Presence.

You have My blessing for this.

XII - The Law and Its Celestial Love

Thursday, May 21, 2020

A soul, that feared the Justice of God, constantly prayed and cried out for Mercy, and one day, feeling that the cycle of this Justice had come to the world, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, You are the God of Love, of Grace and Mercy, capable of giving Yourself on the Cross for the salvation of the world, so explain to me, what is justice and how can a God of Love act with justice upon His Children?”

And looking at this soul peacefully, the Lord responded: “Beloved soul that ignores the true meaning of My Divine Justice, the Justice of My Heart is a Law permeated by as much of a great love as Divine Mercy. While Mercy elevates those who are blind and grants the best of My Kingdom even to the most ignorant, My Justice first washes their eyes, opens them and then allows souls to be aware of all that which I have already given them.

After pouring out Mercy upon hearts and seeing them still submerged in indifference, ingratitude and unconsciousness, My Spirit pours out Justice upon them. And Justice is a ray of Love from My Heart that shakes souls and overthrows their most ingrained illusions so that they may thus realize the truth and repent.

What causes suffering in souls is not My Justice but their own ignorance, because they realize that they were standing on foundations of sand, when I so often have offered them the rock of My Heart. Justice, little soul, is a part of My Love, so that none of My children may remain in the world without awakening and perceiving what they really are and which path they must tread.

Therefore, in the face of Justice, do not suffer, but simply pray so that this new opportunity which comes through the Law of Justice may not also pass by ignorant souls in vain, but may they make of this divine correction the first step toward the straightening of their paths.”

May this dialogue teach you, children, how to love God, His Mercy and His Justice, and to understand that the action of the Laws is just and filled with a celestial love for souls.

You have My blessing for this.

XIII - Seek God, Come to Know His Mysteries and Experience Them

Friday, May 22, 2020

A soul that aspired to know eternity and Paradise, and each day sought merits so as to come to deserve a place in Heaven, questioned the Lord about which path is deserving to be by His side, saying: “Lord, life on Earth, in spite of being sacred, is too little for me. My soul ardently aspires to be with You in the Paradise of Your eternity. Tell me, then, beloved God, what do I do to remain by Your side in the Infinite?”

And with profound love and wisdom, the Lord responded: “Little soul, what is Paradise to you? In your heart, how do you think that life is in My Kingdom? I created you so as to dwell within you; thus, I want to make you understand that you do not have to desire to be in Heaven to be by My side, but rather discover Me within you. Happy and blessed is the soul that knows how to find unity with Me within their own essence, the one that does not seek outside of themselves, but rather within, in the depths of their own inner world.

Many are the souls that say they want to be with Me but how many souls silently stop to seek Me within their own essence?

Many are the souls that say they prefer My Kingdom to the world, but how many put aside, even if for an instant, the things of the world to seek My Kingdom within their own hearts and know themselves to be the Kingdom?

Many are the souls instructed in My Knowledge, those that know of My Words and say they love them, but how many souls are there that, after having been instructed about something, do not stop in the knowledge but rather seek an experience about what they have learned?

Little soul, My Kingdom is within you, just as I Am also within you, and the path to find Me is simply to truly seek Me, with sincerity and love. When you simply stop in order to find Me within you, you will see that My mysteries were not hidden in the stars. My Paradise is not only in Heaven; it lies within you.”

May this dialogue, children, inspire you to seek God within yourselves, and not only come to know His mysteries, but also experience them, each day.

You have My blessing for this.

XIV – The Expression of God Within the Heart

Saturday, May 23, 2020

A soul that loved God and His Plan, but that was full of themselves and their own will, tried each day to empty their heart in order to live Divine Laws. This soul was preparing themselves for the critical times of the planet, in which they knew that only unconditional love and obedience would be the foundation for the transformation of the old human being into that one the Creator expected.

Praying one day to the Lord, and asking Him for guidance for the end of times, this soul said: “Lord, it is difficult for me to become empty of myself, of my ideas and concepts, of that which I believe to be correct and the best for You; it is difficult for me to silence my voice in order to hear Yours and trust when You become manifest through my brothers and sisters. Tell me, O God, what I can do to live in Your obedience, in Your Love and in trust, and to remain in Your Will for the times that will come.”

And contemplating the sincerity of this soul, the Lord responded: “Little soul, I created you and I know your strength, a strength that must be surrendered in order to make room for My Power, which is still unknown to you, because you make more room in your heart for yourself than for Me. For each one of My Children, I have inexhaustible gifts, the potential not only to lead a life on Earth with wisdom but to transform universes.

However, My Children are imprisoned within themselves, within all that they have mistakenly conquered and learned throughout their evolution on Earth.

They have learned that to grow is to constantly affirm and re-affirm themselves in their own will, and they miss all the wonders and true gifts that I grant to those who are empty of self.

For this reason, little soul, recognizing your ignorance is the first step; silencing and refraining your impulses is the following step; in prayer, be observant of all of life's gestures, and only give your opinion when it is requested. Before disagreeing with another's will, first, live it in obedience. Do not want to place your will above those of others without first accepting what they ask of you. I forge your consciousness and transform your human pride through those whom I sent so that they may serve with you. Therefore, practice unconditional obedience and expose your feelings only when they open the way to you.

Discover the flow of the laws and, while you do so, you will be within My Grace, and it will flow over you like a stream of wisdom when something is given to you to lead. Meanwhile, little soul, experience trust, obedience and love, and for you they will become a source of transformation and surrender. And you will reach Me and you will represent Me in the world and beyond it, for I will empty you of yourself and make of your heart My dwelling."

May this dialogue inspire you to live in obedience and love so that you may make room for God to express Himself within your hearts.

You have My blessing for this.

XV - Choose God at Each Instant

Sunday, May 24, 2020

A suffering soul that in this life seemed not to know the joy and the love that others have the opportunity to experience, questioned God, asking Him: “Lord, I see the world and I find inequality, souls that rejoice and souls that despair, souls that are strengthened by You and souls that lose their strength and do not find meaning for their own lives. Tell me, then, You, Who are the God of all, the same and the One, what is the reason for the imbalances of the world?”

And contemplating the sincerity of the soul’s suffering, the Lord responded: “I Am the God of all beings, the Father and Lord of all life, the Only and Triune God, the God of Love and Truth. But life, little soul, is designed by Laws that maintain the balance of the evolution of all consciousnesses and lead them according to their own choices. My Love for souls is the same; with the same hope, I wait for hearts to return to Me, but the suffering or the joy in this world is not a decision that My Heart makes regarding creatures.

What is bliss for you? Where do you see that humankind finds joy in their hearts? Because to be in true joy, a soul only needs to be in Me, and although they may suffer with the pain of humankind, My Love in their heart does not let them perish.

The suffering of the world, little soul, must make you understand the fragility of human life when it is distant from Me. The true pain that souls feel is for being distant from My Heart or for ignoring My Presence. A soul may have everything in matter and still be profoundly empty and unhappy, just as a soul may not have anything and yet possess the greatest of all joys, which is to be in My Heart. But this, little soul, is a daily decision, a constant and permanent decision of souls that choose to be in Me rather than in the world.

For this reason, when you feel emptiness and suffering in your heart, ask yourself not where I Am, but rather, where are you. My Heart is in you, but are you in Me?”

May this dialogue remind you, children, that you must be in God to understand that life is made of Laws that do not descend at random from the universe but rather are attracted by each soul that chooses, through their actions, thoughts and feelings, that which they will attract to their own lives.

Know how to choose God, every day, at each instant.

You have My blessing for this.

XVI - Be Healed by God

Monday, May 25, 2020

A soul was afflicted for feeling in the depths of their heart that old pains emerged, records of experiences unknown to them, and of others that they thought had been overcome. The soul felt that within their inner world there was never a time in which their old experiences passed and new experiences emerged in a harmonious way; rather everything was mixed together and it became difficult to understand and transform that which was within.

Therefore, in a sincere prayer, this soul questioned God, saying: "Lord, time passes by outside of me, but within me it seems not to exist. Why do I feel and suffer due to wounds that I am not even aware of existing within me? Today everything is so confusing; what seemed to have been overcome then emerges with greater force, and when it seems that I have risen, I fall again into the abysses of my fears and uncertainties, into the pains of newly opened wounds, those both known and unknown. Explain to me, God: how can I heal and overcome that which takes place within me?"

And with love and wisdom, the Lord responded: "In truth I tell you that not only within you but also in true life, time does not exist. Time is a form that I created so that creatures of this world would be able to grow in a sequence of divine laws and sciences, which keeps them in an evolutive school up to the moment of their spiritual maturity. Time happens outside of you, within your human side. Time is perceived by your body, mind and feelings, but within you, little soul, in your deepest essence, there is no time. There, you are in likeness with Me, with My Infinite; within you pulsates an eternal life.

The closer the transition of the planet comes, which is the awaited human maturity, the closer you come to the moment when that which hides within you will be manifested, when truth will be expressed, when time will no longer exist, but rather Eternity will be revealed. Your little soul seeing emerge the innermost registers of your experiences from other times is part of this process of transition, because everything emerges to be recognized, for you to become aware of and for it to be balanced, according to the awakening of your consciousness and the love of your heart.

Therefore, in the face of the oldest pains, simply seek the Love that there is within Me and the Grace of My Spirit so that I may have a place to act in, through you, and thus balance and heal all that which you have experienced through ignorance; all the wounds opened through a lifetime distant from Me. Simply seek Me and give Me a space within you, in your mind, body, soul and heart. Thus, I will be within you.”

May this dialogue allow you to understand, children, that this is the moment for seeing emerge within you all the records of other times which still need to be healed. However, in the face of what you feel, do not despair, but simply seek God and give Him a place, because only He has the Grace and the Love to definitively heal you.

You have My blessing for this.

XVII - The Peace of the Virgin Mary

Tuesday, May 26, 2020

Contemplating the world, as well as the innermost spaces of its consciousness, a soul sought peace and did not manage to find it. The confusion of humanity, the imbalances in humankind, illnesses, suffering, the lack of a true meaning to life, this is what this soul would see while seeking peace in the world and even within themselves.

Therefore, asking for the help of God, this soul prayed to the Lord, saying: “Lord, if it is possible to feel peace in times of anguish, give me peace. If it is possible to feel You, even while in the desert, make me feel You. If it is possible to keep faith and believe that after this deep night, the light of a new day and of a new life will come, then grant me this faith, because I feel lost, alone and empty, and I cannot find anything but anguish and uncertainty around me.”

And after observing this soul over a long period of silence, the Lord responded: “See, little soul, that your feet are spiritually upon a mount; this is the Calvary of the world. To go through it without losing faith, hope, or peace within, you must focus your consciousness on the true purpose of your existence.

Then, contemplate the Cross, and each day relive the Calvary of the Lord. Meditate upon the moment He would find peace in His Heart, and imitate His footsteps. Perceive that it was in the gaze of the Most Holy Mary and in the certainty of Her silent presence, during the entire trajectory with the Cross, that your Lord, My Son, would find peace and be renewed so as to continue forward. It was in the eyes of Mary, the Virgin Mother of Life, that your Lord would find hope and resume the purpose of each drop of His poured Blood.

The Calvary of these times is designed by the choices of the souls of the whole world. As one humanity, you must go through this test, but you, little soul, can either experience Calvary in the unconsciousness of the two thieves, or you can experience Calvary while renewing Creation, the laws and life, as Christ taught you to do.

If you then lose your peace, seek this peace in the eyes of the Virgin Mary. Pray to Her Immaculate Heart, and She, Who is the very Source of Peace for all life, will respond to you with silence but with Her deep Love, with Her Peace and Her renewal. This is the way of finding peace in these times of transition.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you not to linger in the anguish of the world but rather to learn to renew yourselves in the Most Holy Mary and find Her Peace, despite any tribulation in the world.

You have My blessing for this.

XVIII - Seeking God in Order to Become an Instrument of His

Wednesday, May 27, 2020

A soul that aspired to deepen their union with God, and mature this union through a true surrender and a pure contact with the Heart of the Celestial Father, prayed to Him, saying: “Lord, my life and all life belong to You; my heart and each heart belong to You and are living parts of Your Heart of Love. Teach me, then, to feel myself ever more a part of Your Being, of Your Spirit, of Your Source. Teach me to live and move always within You, expressing You and being Your instrument in this world and beyond.”

And after an instant in silence, contemplating the inner world of this soul, the Lord responded: “To express Me more than yourself, little soul, you must first do as My Son taught you: enter your room in silence and pray in secret to My Heart, which hears you in secret. It is there where you strengthen your union with Me. Before demonstrating it to the world, before being an instrument of Mine in the eyes of humankind, first you must not only build, but also consolidate and renew this union with My Heart for the centuries to come.

It is in secret that I reveal to you what I most want from you; it is in secret that I show you My Kingdom within you; it is in secret that I hear your confession and forgive your sins, wash your feet, your face and your hands, and I make you new, every day, so that you may always have a new opportunity to try to come closer to My Spirit, to My Source.

Complete your prayer with a silent and simple, striving and attentive service; always seeking humility. At first, beloved soul of My Heart, do not even try to be an example, because the one who is trying to be an example is looking for the attention of someone to observe them and learn with them. Do not want to teach but to only live; do not want to show but to only be. Know that you are an apprentice and that you are trying each day to be better, and if for My Glory someone watches and learns from you, let your heart not change but remain an eternal apprentice of My Spirit, an eternal servant within My Plan, an eternal seeker of My Presence. Thus, you will learn through a true contact with Me, and I will be within you, and you will represent Me, perhaps, without even realizing it.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you to seek God, to deepen into your contact with Him and to be His instruments in this world, and much beyond it.

You have My blessing for this.

XIX - To Serve God and Fulfill His Will

Thursday, May 28, 2020

A soul, sensitized to the urgency for the awakening of humanity, to the urgency to transform and serve, prayed to God, asking Him for more opportunities to serve, more responsibilities and possibilities for acting in His Plan of Love, saying: “Lord, here is my heart, my spirit, soul, mind, body and feelings. Use me for the manifestation of Your Plan. Give me more possibilities for serving, more responsibilities for carrying out the manifestation of Your Will on Earth. God, do not leave me simply observing the dormant state of humanity, but rather bring me to those places where I am able to serve Your Heart ever more.”

And knowing the sincere momentum of this soul for serving and surrendering, the Lord responded with love: “Little soul, do not seek just to serve more; seek to serve better. Do not look for opportunities to manifest My Work in great things, because I do not want you to be a martyr in the history of humanity; I do not want you to be a revolutionary soul that will be remembered in the books of this world. I call on you to transform the human condition from the inside out.

I do not call upon you to serve more; rather I call upon you to serve better, to polish what separates you from Me in each instant of your life. I do not call you to be memorable to humankind but rather to all of Creation, because My Project is fulfilled when It triumphs within beings, in their consciousnesses, in their souls and in their spirits.

When you serve better in the small things, in the excellence of your surrender, in your love for the neighbor, in the sincerity of your prayer, in the transparency of your expression in life, in the living of the Gifts of My Spirit, it is then, little soul, that a great work is accomplished.

When you serve better, you will naturally serve more, because the very energy of life will lead you to greater responsibilities, which will not always be material, but many times they will be internal, hidden and invisible to the eyes of humankind, because the attention of human beings is on that which is external, but the gaze of the Universe is on that which is done in the essence of humankind, for in this way, My Plan is manifested.

Thus, little soul, let your momentum of serving always be alive, leading you to serve better, more deeply, more sincerely, in a pure and transparent way, in a service that occurs within your heart, between your heart and Mine; and My Will shall be fulfilled in you.”

May this dialogue teach you, children, to fulfill the Will of God in a sincere and complete way, and to serve Him ever better, from the inside out.

You have My blessing for this.

XX - The Healing, Forgiveness and Redemption of Christ

Friday, May 29, 2020

A soul that had committed many mistakes felt impure and unworthy before God, and facing all the sins they had experienced, the soul questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, I have sinned many times; I have fallen and, instead of standing up, I submerged even more deeply into the abysses of life. Today I stand before You; You have called me to sit at the table of redemption. Tell me, Lord, is it possible for a sinner like me to be called by You? How will I be able to take the steps that You need? How will I heal the infidelities and the deepest sins of my being?”

And with eyes of Mercy, the Lord responded, also with a question: “What did the leper do to be healed by My Son when he saw Him approach among the multitude? What did the woman with the flow of blood do to be freed from the weight of her impurities while in her despair she saw My Son walking by? What did Zacchaeus do to be seen and, despite all his errors, be worthy of a single gaze of the Son of God?”

The leper, little soul, exposed and humiliated himself before the multitude. With his bad scent, with his wounds, with his broken heart; hopeless in a world where there was no salvation for him, the only solution was to resort to Christ; dirty, impure, sick, rejected.

The woman with the flow of blood also risked herself among the multitude. She did not want to be humiliated, but she knew that the only way to be healed was to resort to Christ. This time, it was the Lord Himself who made her noticeable, not to humiliate her, but rather to let the world know that to be healed and become clean, the sinner must expose their sins and wounds to God. It is through the doorway of humility that one reaches the Feet of the Creator.

Zacchaeus knew of his bad behavior; he knew of his sins and imperfections, but within his soul, the need for forgiveness spoke louder. This is why he exposed himself and, before the multitude, humiliated himself; climbed a tree where everyone could notice that, despite all his errors, he was there, facing all the judgments and criticisms, simply for the need of being before Christ.

And when the Lord sees that sinners go beyond their sins, He also goes beyond in His Love, in His Mercy and in His Grace. For this reason, little soul, nothing is impossible. All illnesses have a healing, all sins can be forgiven, but for this, you need to set aside your pride and vanity and humiliate yourself before God. Be transparent and sincere, show the Lord your wounds and allow that with a single compassionate gaze, He may heal you.”

May this dialogue, children, inspire you not to fear being exposed, humiliated, and thus, healed, forgiven and redeemed by Christ.

You have My blessing for this.

XXI - The Simple Presence of God

Saturday, May 30, 2020

Feeling profound anguish in their chest that was unexplainable, a soul questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, within my heart there is a feeling that I cannot explain. I do not know if it is sadness or confusion. I do not know if it is anguish or grief. I do not know if I lack a meaning for living or if I am feeling Your sorrow, the sorrow of the world. Could You explain what I feel?”

And the Lord responded, saying: “Little soul, contemplate the infinite and the vastness of the universe. Contemplate the greatness and the complexity of life. Contemplate the mysteries hidden in the stars. Your own being is as infinite as life, and many times that which you feel and experience does not come from this Earth nor this time, but rather from a space and time distant from what you experience today. Many times the anguish of your heart comes from the infinite, from parts of your consciousness that dwell in the universe, where life continues its evolution, constantly creating and re-creating itself.

But it does not matter what you feel or where it comes from. If you want to relieve your little heart, simply come to Me, Who is your God and knows the deepest roots of your being, of your thoughts feelings, and ultimately, of your life.

Come toward Me, little soul, surrendered and sincere, transparent and fragile. You will not have an explanation for everything, because sometimes it is not the time for you to know certain things about yourself but rather for you to have relief for everything, and this is to be found within Me.

Therefore, humbly come to Me, knowing that you are small. Come to Me as a child who finds refuge in their father, I will explain to you what I can. And when it is not the time for this, I will simply relieve you, and whatever My response may be, it will cause you to grow, because sometimes you grow through knowledge and, other times you grow through knowing that you do not know anything.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you to always seek relief in God; not always to find responses but to give thanks for His Silence as well as for His Voice and, above all, to welcome the Love of His simple Presence.

You have My blessing for this.

XXII - Concerning Prayer

Sunday, May 31, 2020

A devout soul that was always willing to give more of itself to God, while praying, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, I lift up my voice to the Heavens and pray for the souls that suffer, for the Kingdoms of Nature, for the planet, for Your Plan. What more must I do for this prayer to truly reach You and generate merits for the salvation and redemption of the world?”

And the Lord responded: “While you pray, speak with Me, pronounce each word not only to hear your own voice and feel that you are fulfilling your part. Pray, allowing your essence to look into My Eyes, allowing your heart to be within Mine and your words to be an echo throughout the infinite, throughout Creation.

To pray in this way, beloved child, soul of Mine, you need to be whole before Me, without caring about time, tiredness, the sensations of the body or about those who are around you, whether or not they strive as you do or whether they sleep and become distracted in their words. May nothing matter to you but My Presence and the imperious need the world has for sincere and real prayers.

When you sing, may your ears not care about the sound of your voice, may your mind not care about who is listening to you, but rather may your heart care to attune your voice and be before Me, singing with perfection for the One Who is the Owner of all sound, the Creator of each note, of each tone, capable of transforming your vibration into gifts that expand through Life, transforming lives. This, little soul, is how your prayer must be.”

May this dialogue teach you, children, to deepen each day into your prayers. May they be sincere and reach God.

You have My blessing for this.

XXIII - Surrender: the Key to a New Stage

Monday, June 1, 2020

An awake and serving soul that sought to fulfill its mission and express the Will of God through many ways, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, in spite of praying, seeking an evolutionary life, always making my heart available to You, aspiring to permanently serve, I still feel that I am not able to completely manifest my mission. Tell me then, how do I do this.”

And the Lord responded: “Up until now, little soul, each of your efforts has been valuable, each transformation experienced has been like a gift at the foot of My Altar, but at this stage of your evolution, you must begin to understand and live the deepest meaning of surrender, of the giving of self and evolutionary life.

The moment has come to place within My Hands that which you most appreciate: your self-love, your way of seeing evolution, everything that you believe you know, everything that you consider good and that makes you a good soul before others. The time has come for you to place within My Hands not only your miseries but also your virtues, your need to show everyone how you live them, and even if you think you are setting an example for your neighbor, this is no longer what I need of you. Your greatest example will be hidden but will resound throughout the planetary consciousness, throughout Creation.

Give Me your way of living and of expressing yourself, your way of serving and loving, your way of praying and knowing the universe, because I aspire to make all things new within you so that you may achieve a higher knowledge about existence, and so that you may experience a higher degree of love. You must leave behind all that you have lived up until now, giving thanks for and revering everything that has been learned; surrendering it at My Feet, like a ladder that allowed you to reach Me but that you must now leave behind so as to climb a different stairway, which leads to a deeper union with Me.

This begins, beloved soul, by being aware of the need of becoming new and leaving the past behind. When I then feel that your heart is ready and divested of all that you have previously lived, I will show you a new path, I will have you come to know new sciences, I will reveal a higher Love to you, the fruit of your surrender and renunciations, the fruit of your emptiness.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you how to perceive that this is the moment to be renewed in God, to give thanks for what you have learned and to surrender so that a new stage may emerge for you and for all humanity.

You have My blessing for this.

XXIV - The Only Purpose: Live Love

Tuesday, July 2, 2020

A soul that aspired to one day be able to live unity with all beings and with God sought within each religion different points that could unite each one of them in love and respect. And one day, in prayer, the soul questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, You are the same God for all true religions. You are the same One Who inspires hearts and souls along the path of return to Your Spirit of Love. Tell me, then, what is there in each religion that unites us, that makes us all Your Children?”

And with love, the Lord responded: “What makes you My Children, little soul, are not the religions, but life itself. The fact that you exist in the vast Creation makes each being a child of God, loved and favored, created for a purpose and with a mission.

Religions are impulses that I have given to humanity time and again so that souls would remember the path toward their evolution, but it has not only been through religions that I have sent these impulses to the world; I have also done so through nature, silence, service and, oftentimes, through suffering, because some of My Children have chosen this path to awaken and perceive that they were not understanding life in the correct way, and that they were missing the true meaning of their existence.

Through religions, I have sent impulses to the world, and as human beings grew and evolved mentally, emotionally and in soul, these impulses were able to become more expansive, more clear, more direct.

Through Krishna, I led you to an awakening of a simple degree of love, a love for life, for the elements, for energies. I led you to a broader perception of existence, and I began to create a path of return to My Heart. However, each being understood religion in a different way and manifested it according to their possibilities, which oftentimes were not pure like My impulses are.

Through Buddha, I taught you unity with the All, the compassionate love and peace. I taught My Children to live in communion with the universe and to step out of the constant rounds of errors and their consequences. You were then ready to understand that it is you yourselves who are responsible for your lives, and through your choices, you attract to yourselves the rays and the impulses that elevate you or correct you, according to that which you choose to experience.

But not all of humanity evolved, not all opened to love.

The human mind developed, and with the mind, its wickedness developed rather than its love. Instead of My Children living in communion with life, they wished to possess it and manipulate it. For this reason, they made gods of the elements, and of the energies, they made ways of getting what they wanted.

Through the Patriarchs, I again gave impulses to beings, correcting their paths; impulses that were also experienced according to their understanding.

Until I sent My Son to the world, not only with a teaching but with a Grace. Different from all previous religions, it was not through knowledge or a constant effort to elevate yourselves that you would reach Me, but rather through a grace and the Mercy that a surrendered heart can receive.

The Love of Christ did not come for a few; it came for all. It did not come for the East or for the West; it came for all life, for all beings that, in spite of their sins, knew how to say yes.

In previous times, humanity reached divine dimensions through a constant effort for elevation. Through Christ, the Kingdom was revealed to you within your own hearts, and throughout human evolution, My impulses continue to be renewed.

I begin to gather within My Children all the knowledge and all the degrees of love because the time has come for a synthesis of life on Earth, the time of the narrow and only doorway through which all beings will reach Me. And this doorway, beloved soul, is the love within your hearts.

This is why I Am the God of Life, because I love all and I have taught all how to love. This is the path for reaching Me. Therefore, come, in spite of differences. Come, in spite of knowledge. Come, in spite of the impulses that you have received, because all of them have had one purpose, that of leading you into loving.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you how to understand the cycles of life and their true meanings, and to know that in spite of all the complexity of human existence, for everything there is one purpose, which is the living of love.

You have My blessing for this.

XXV- To Live in Balance

Wednesday, June 3, 2020

A soul that felt disturbed by their uncontrolled inner world, their sick body, their imbalanced mind, felt that their problems could no longer have a solution, and they questioned God, saying: “Lord, I am a well of illness and misery, a well of imperfection and difficulty. I feel there is no solution for me, I feel that I do not have a reason to live. Can You tell me what sense there is in remaining like this?”

And after a long time in silence, the Lord responded: “Beloved soul, the solutions of Heaven are not the same as the ones of the Earth. Everything that you seem to suffer without end is in truth already the response for balancing something within you that needed to be balanced. The illnesses that beings experience, in truth, have innumerable reasons and meanings, but all of them seek to awaken the sense of human frailty so that souls do not remain in self-sufficiency but rather perceive that only when there is unity with all life, there will be healing.

A body will only be in balance when all of its systems function in unity, and if the smallest of its cells feels self-sufficient and begins to build its own plan within the body, there will be imbalance and illness; however small a cell may be, a being can come to death simply through its rebelliousness.

When a soul is ill, they need to understand themselves to be a part of an All. To return to their balance, to be healed, they must be sheltered by the power of unity; they must let the love and help of the neighbor supply that which on its own the soul is no longer managing to achieve; they must allow unity with life, with the universes, with God to again reign within their heart. May this soul not feel alone, isolated or separate from a greater body.

Each being, little soul, is a cell of the Mystical Body of your Lord and God. For this reason, you must perceive the flow of the Laws, the meaning of life, which is not one's own but rather a universal meaning. Each cell has its function but the purpose of a body is one. For this reason, beloved soul, do not seek a personal purpose; seek the purpose of the Universe, seek your place in My Heart. In consciousness, enter the space where you belong, within this infinite Body of Creation, and this is achieved with humility, allowing oneself to be helped, with peace and with profound rendition, the fruit of a heart that has learned to sincerely pray.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you to always be in balance within the Mystical Body of your Creator.

You have My blessing for this.

XXVI - The Key to Unveil the Celestial Mysteries

Thursday, June 4, 2020

A soul that aspired to live and express the purity of their heart but felt this attribute to be corrupt within them, prayed to God, asking Him for purity to again emerge, and questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, I know that there is the attribute of purity within me, because I know that when You created me, You placed this purity within me, but throughout this lifetime I believe I have lost it, and I am unable to find it. How do I recover purity within my heart? How do I love purity and express it more than all the capital energies that surround our beings?”

And with love, the Lord responded: “Little soul, yes, since the beginning of life, purity has dwelled within your being, a purity that comes from the Immaculate Womb that created you in the infinite universe of My Creation. This purity is not lost, but it is indeed hidden by all the human experiences that do not allow it to be expressed within the hearts of My Children.

So that it may again emerge and gain space throughout your consciousness, what you must transform within you is your concept of love, and love itself within your heart, that is to say, little soul, you must love Me, My Plan and My Kingdom, more than humankind and the things of the world. But this love must be true, genuine and unconditional. There must be no condition that you set for loving Me, and gradually this love will make you see life and each being in a different way.

It is the love for God that transforms creatures. My Love in you changes your thoughts and feelings, changes your way of acting, changes your needs and aspirations, cleanses your eyes and the stains within your hearts, causing them to recover purity.

This is how, beloved soul, you must not seek to defeat the energies of the world so as to express this purity, because if it is so, you will be in a constant battle, and you will not come to know peace. Rather, just strive to love Me, with truth and wholeness, and may My Love grow within you. In this way, you will find purity within you.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you that all the celestial mysteries and the pure expressions of beings are held only in the Love of God. You just have to love the Creator with all your being, with truth and unconditionally.

You have My blessing for this.

XXVII - Concerning the Grace of God

Friday, June 5, 2020

A soul that felt graced for so many blessings that constantly came into their life, during a moment in prayer, questioned the Lord, saying: “Beloved Lord, I have everything and I receive so much more from You each day; tell me the reason for so many blessings. What must I do with each Grace received? How can I thank You for the Gifts of Your eternal Spirit?”

And the Lord responded: “See, little soul, how from the Celestial Universe, Gifts and Graces constantly flow toward all life. My Love is poured out upon Creation without distinction, to all those who open to experience it.

If you open the doors of your heart, of your consciousness and of your life to Me, these Graces will flow through you and flood everything around you. But when My Children close the doors to Me, when they are ignorant or indifferent, when their attention is only focused on the world, My Source flows and simply flows by, without them feeling it, without them noticing it or perceiving it.

Everything that I send to creatures is out of Love so that they may grow, renew Creation and recreate it. For this reason, take My blessings and be a grateful soul; take My Gifts and multiply them through service, prayer, through each day being a living example that I live within you and that My Graces flow within you, so that the blind may see, so that those who fear may take a risk, so those who do not love may open, those who do not serve nor come out of themselves may give of themselves and discover the immense Love that flows from My Heart for those who unconditionally give of themselves.

May My Graces and blessings not remain within you or within any soul of this world; may they grow, multiply, be renewed and reach all beings.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you to perceive the flow of the Grace of God, to receive the flow, multiply it and constantly give of it.

You have My blessing for this.

XXVIII - Peace and Wisdom for the Times of Transition

Saturday, June 6, 2020

A soul that prepared for the great tribulation of the planet for a long time felt ever more insecure and ignorant as this approached. The soul felt how unknown this planetary probation was and questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord and Eternal Father, how can I be ready to live these times? How can I go beyond my ignorance and enter Your Wisdom? How can I go beyond my fears and enter Your Peace?”

And the Lord responded: “As you see, little soul, these times are new and this probation is unknown and challenging for all life on Earth and beyond, but My Graces are to be found within you, along with all those gifts that one day, while you were praying and serving, I gradually placed within you. They will emerge and be your assistance and your peace.

Within you, however, also live a synthesis that allows you to find that which has still not been experienced: the love-wisdom not yet achieved in any period of humanity but only in the Heart of My Son. For this, little soul, allow all the most profound learning experiences of humanity to be synthesized within you.

Live and feel the ignorance of the primitive peoples who, in their mental simplicity, did not remain there but were capable of launching into the unknown to survive and evolve. Take from there the deepest records of the human possibility for breaking barriers and growing. So then grow, not only as a thinking human being but as a human being who feels life, who communes and is to be found in the Whole of Creation.

Live the purity of the indigenous peoples, the original peoples. Live the perseverance of those who, in spite of all the longing for power in humanity, chose pure wisdom and remained in its peace.

Within you, live the compassion of the East, the pure science of the study of the body, nature and the stars, which, at the same time, causes the human consciousness to recognize their greatness and their smallness.

Live the faith of the first Christians, who broke barriers and went beyond the first Sacred Scriptures; those who did not remain in words but believed as they saw living prophecies; those who allowed themselves to be transformed and knew how to hear, more than the symbolic preaching of My Son, all the celestial revelations that He brought; those who lived the Kingdom and, with Christ, discovered themselves as the Kingdom, imitating His steps throughout the centuries.

Live the peace of simple souls, who do not tie themselves to the riches of the world but rather sustain themselves in the joy of the Presence of God; souls whose strength was built on a rock and who do not shake when the glory of the world collapses but remain in God, even in the face of the tempests.

And so, beloved soul, experiencing within yourself the gifts that I gave humanity, at each period, in each people, in each religion, open to live something new, the fruit of all that has been learned. This is the transition of the times.”

May this profound dialogue inspire you, children, to find peace and wisdom in the times of transition.

You have My blessing for this.

XXIX - Dialogue Between Nature and God

Sunday, June 7, 2020

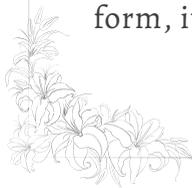

When the soul of Nature enters into dialogue with God, what does it say? How is it answered by its Creator?

The soul of Nature speaks with God in silence, through the expression of beauty and the movement of the elements. The soul of Nature expresses its pain to the Creator through the wind, the rain, the closed and silent sky, the time that seems to stand still so as to feel the life of the Earth.

Nature expresses its self-giving and love through the flowers, fruits, the green leaves and the leaves that are dried, surrendering to renewal. It speaks through the deep silence of the oceans, through their balance and surrender, their constant and selfless service, their effort to keep the Project of the Creator for this world alive.

The soul of Nature speaks with God through the silence of the earth, renewing in its deepest layers the most ancient records of humanity, transforming with fire that which has happened and giving to the planet a substance that nurtures, that supplies, that sustains.

And God responds to Nature with the sun that shines and communicates life, with the night that restores and brings encouragement, with the breath that becomes air and breathing so that, in spite of all the density of the planet, there may be Spirit within the spirit of beings. God responds to Nature with gratitude, renewing Nature's perfection and beauty, its life and its form, its peace.

May this dialogue, children, teach you to serve unconditionally, to give of yourselves out of love, to express peace even in times of chaos, to adore in silence when the world becomes stirred and to receive from the Lord the gratitude and the Love of His infinite Heart.

You have My blessing for this.

XXX- Impulses to Be and Remain in God

Monday, June 8, 2020

A soul that felt disturbed for not being able to refrain the flow of their thoughts while praying, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, when I stop to be before You and pray, my thoughts continue to be stirred, the words of my prayer are confused with the incessant words of my mind, and I do not find peace. God, how can I purify my thoughts to be in peace before You?”

And the Lord responded: “Little soul, your mind is a mirror of everything you receive and consume from the world. That which you have contact with throughout your day is that which will be in your thoughts when the time comes to pray. For you to achieve peace, there is no formula but an attitude that must be transformed within you, a decision to no longer seek certain things that only pollute your mind and take up space within your heart.

If you do the opposite, and instead of nourishing your mind with the things of the world, you nourish it with the things of Heaven, you will see how prayer will be for you a moment of inner deepening, and not of eternal and constant self-transmutation. But for this, you must choose to think and feel correctly, to cut the degenerative thoughts, stop before the impulses that will lead you into darkness and always choose to be in Me and think about what leads you toward My Heart.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you how to be in God and remain in Him, building your moment of prayer at each instant of your day, through small choices.

You have My blessing for this.

XXXI - Feeling the Love of God is a Matter of Choice

Tuesday, June 9, 2020

A converted soul, repentant of its deepest sins, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, here I am, trusting in the greatness of Your Love and discovering the Grace of Your forgiveness. Tell me, O Father, how I can be forgiven and loved, and more than this, how can I feel in my heart that I have been touched by Your forgiveness?”

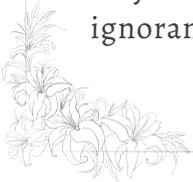

And the Lord responded: “Beloved you are, little soul, since the first breath of your consciousness, since My Spirit alighted upon you and gave you breath and life. Since then, you have been deeply loved.

Forgiven you are, when you embrace forgiveness and understand that it is not I Who deprives you of it but rather it is you who passes by and does not see it; it is you who does not reach out your hands to it due to being occupied with ignorance and sin.

When you awaken and open your eyes to My infinite Love, you can be touched by My Holy Hands. My Spirit again lifts you up into purity and peace, and it is there where you can find My forgiveness and understand that, in truth, I have always been here.

So let your anguish and uncertainty give way to My Love for you, soul of Mine, and see that My forgiveness is before your eyes, knocking at the door of your heart. Let it enter and transform your inner dwelling.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you that staying in sin or in ignorance, or being embraced by Love and Forgiveness, is simply a choice of each being. You are beloved from the beginning: children awaited by your Creator. Now you just have to open your eyes and see that before you, with patience and hope, dwells the Love of God.

You have My blessing for this.

XXXII - To Be Strengthened in God and Find Faith and Grace

Wednesday, June 10, 2020

A soul that sought to deepen their strength in Christ, to be renewed in Him in the face of each test, questioned the Lord, saying: “Lord, where did the faith of the first Christians come from? Where does the strength of those who knew and know how to surrender their lives out of love come from?”

And the Lord responded: “Not only the faith of the first Christians, beloved soul, but also the faith of all those who know how to surrender their lives out of love for God, is based on the certainty of My Celestial Existence. These souls know that their testimony of love rescues and inspires those who lack hope and those who have lost their faith. They know that their example generates merits for the salvation of the greatest sinners. They know that their lives are like a breath, fragile and passing, but that during this brief breath, they must love with all their being, and all their heart.

According to the commandment that My Son left to you, there is no greater love than the one that gives their life for their friends. And to give your life, little soul, is not only to die but, above all, to give of yourself, with all your being and all your heart, to be a living testimony of the surrender and love, the Grace and Mercy that flowed and continue to flow from the Crucified Heart of Christ.

For this reason, soul of Mine, may your effort be in loving and entering My Love more deeply. In this way, all faith and Grace will be revealed to you.”

May this dialogue, children, teach you to be strengthened in God rather than in the world, and that in the quick breath of life, you may know how to love with all that you are.

You have My blessing for this.

XXXIII - The Dialogue With God

Thursday, June 11, 2020

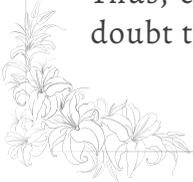

There are as many dialogues with God as there are millionths of second in the time of the world. At each instant, a soul enters into dialogue with their Creator, confesses to Him, explains their needs and desires to Him, their sorrows and joys, their complaints and gratitude, their silence and their song, their anguish and their peace. And even those who say they do not believe in God enter into dialogue with the Lord; their souls go beyond any disbelief because the dialogue with the Creator is something as natural as breathing and living.

Each dialogue that I have told you brings an impulse for you to know that God does not only hear the deepest questions of your souls, but He also responds with wisdom, compassion and Love, to each one of them. For this reason, children, you shall not only speak and speak before God, but you shall also be silent to hear Him.

To pray is to enter into dialogue with the Creator, and a dialogue is made of words but also of silence. Thus, make your hearts available so that God may also find space within your souls to speak to you, so that it may be Him Who begins the dialogue, so that He may correct your lives, inspire you and guide you, show you the way and teach you how to return when you are treading along the wrong path.

Within you there is a bridge to the Heart of the Father, a bridge that must be always ready, always uniting dimensions, always creating links between the Creator and His creatures.

Thus, children, you will be able to hear God, and you will not doubt that it is Him Who speaks to your heart.

God transmits peace, humility and Mercy, but He also speaks with righteousness, with justice and with the Law. In all things, feel His profound Love for life.

You have My blessing for this.
